The Global Spine and Pain Revolution

ISPN Annual Conference will take place Sunday, October 25, 2026 at Amsterdam Skills Center for Health Sciences.

Dear Colleagues,

We are excited to announce that the next International Society of Pain and Neuroscience will be held on Sunday, 25 October, 2026 immediately following the conclusion of the International Spine and Pain Society Conference in Amsterdam. The theme of this year's conference is the Global Spine and Pain Revolution and we are excited to delve into this theme and how this Revolution can improve patient care and treatment outcomes.

The ISPN society continues the core mission of its parent society, ASPN: to improve education, highlight scientific curiosity, establish best practices, and elevate each other in a quest to advance the field.

Without good scientific evidence, without perfect guidelines, without collaboration any medical specialty would fail to give the patients the best treatment. Our mission is to offer chronic pain patients the best available treatment every day.

During this innovative, hands-on training experience, participants will explore and discuss the full range of evidence-based treatment options currently available for patient care. The program is designed to integrate focused didactic education with practical application to reinforce best practices in a collaborative learning environment.

This four-day event will feature renowned U.S. and international key opinion leaders in pain and neuroscience.

Lab Framework:

- 30 total attendees
- 20-minute didactic session preceding each procedure, providing clinical context and evidence review prior to hands-on application
- One hour rotations, best in class faculty to attendee ratio to ensure individualized instruction and optimal faculty engagement

We are thrilled to expand our reach to the international community and look forward to seeing you all in Amsterdam!
